Every change in its place.

How the two rounds of review included in development work.

What counts as a round	One consolidated list of changes, sent together. Anything sent afterwards counts towards the next round.
Minor change	Text, images, colours or design adjustments within the approved structure. New sections, structural changes and new features are quoted separately.
Response time	You have 5 working days to submit each round. If you do not respond in that time, the preview is deemed approved or the schedule is revised, as agreed in the quote.
Additional rounds	Rounds beyond the two included are quoted as an extra review round (€50).

Definitive terms are set out in the accepted quote and contract.
